

Argos Risk to present at RMA'S GCOR XIII
Governance, Compliance, and Operational Risk Conference
"How to Defraud a Company in Three Easy Steps"

MINNEAPOLIS, MN – April 3, 2019 - Argos Risk's Kevin Sasser will present "How to Defraud a Company in 3 Easy Steps" at GCOR XIII April 10th in Cambridge, Massachusetts. RMA's GCOR's conference is developed by practitioners for practitioners, and features panels and sessions on emerging operational risks and best practices in governance and compliance.

"We are excited for the opportunity to attend GCOR and recognize the conference has sold out the past six years. We work closely with our Affiliate partners and were invited by SAI Global to speak at the conference. It is our first time presenting at this conference and it is another outstanding conference to join our Affiliate partner, SAI Global, in their booth to talk about our partnership and third-party risk," said Sasser, Argos Risk's Director of Sales and Strategic Initiatives.

Argos Risk and SAI Global offer an integrated solution that enables organizations to manage a holistic view of a third-party relationship. With the increasing scrutiny on the risks associated with third-party vendor risk management, data and critical insights related to a third-party's financial viability are provided by Argos Risk and easily accessed from within the SAI enterprise risk management suite.

Our session will provide best practices and current examples of why financial viability is the cornerstone of an effective third-party vendor assessment. We will also share how easily financial viability can be incorporated into third-party risk management strategy.

Argos Risk works with hundreds of organizations in implementing best practices related to continuous third-party risk mitigation programs. "We are honored to be part of this esteemed group and look forward to participating and meeting other industry experts who are discussing today's risk challenges," said Lori Frank, President and CEO of Argos Risk.
