

Argos Risk to present at Navigating Payments 2019

"Preparing for the Risks of Recession"

MINNEAPOLIS, MN – September 24, 2019 - Argos Risk®, an industry leader of Third-Party Risk Intelligence (TPRI) solutions, today announced Erica El Hilali will present "Preparing for the Risks of Recession" on October 2nd at the Navigating Payments 2019 Conference. UMACHA and the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis have connected payments and IT experts, such as El Hilali, to provide education, invaluable best practices, and networking opportunities for more than three decades. Navigating Payments 2019, the premier payments journey in the upper Midwest, will be held October 1-3, 2019 in Bloomington, Minnesota.

Erica El Hilali, AAP, is Director of Client Services for Argos Risk. El Hilali directs the development of Webinars, training, and helps ensure a user-centric focus in their risk analytics software solutions. "We are excited for the opportunity to join industry professionals to provide attendees with the latest information on trends and pre-recession strategies."

El Hilali has delivered educational sessions designed to address the risk management needs of financial institutions through out the U.S. This particular session will focus on recession indicators, current and potential economic risks, and how to prepare and manage risk in the next recession. We will also provide tools and tips to minimize the potential consequences of risk during a recession.

We are pleased to attend Navigating Payments and provide insights on best practices related to continuous third-party originator risk mitigation and due diligence programs. "We are looking forward to discussing how proactive measures in risk mitigation are not only imperative to financial institutions today but more so during an economic slowdown," said Lori Frank, President and CEO of Argos Risk.
